

Arterial Series No. 4
