

WHERE WESTBOUND ARTERIAL WOULD LEAVE EAST MAIN ST.—Under the proposed East-West Amsterdam arterial plans, westbound traffic (coming toward camera) would cut through this general area west of St. Mary's Church to a new parallel route lying between Main and Forbes Sts. Most, if not all, of the buildings shown here would be razed. Earlier plans had the westbound arterial following Forbes St. from a point east of Vrooman Ave. Among considerations entering into the change were the narrowness of Forbes St. and the additional hazards of having the arterial traffic pass St. Mary's Institute. East Main St., east of St. Mary's Church, would carry two-way traffic temporarily under present plans.
